

Prison Stories – Mafia

Guys

Seth (Soul Man) Ferrante, a military brat who grew up in the suburbs of California, didn't meet his first real wiseguy until he was nailed by the feds for selling LSD and sentenced to 25 years in prison in 1993. He didn't mention them in "Prison Stories," his book about life in the joint, but in his blog he gives his take on mob guys he met, like longtime John Gotti pal Joe Watts, Mike Perna and others.

