

Prison Stories

Seth Ferranti

Gorilla Convict Publications

Seth is our man inside the Federal prison system, serving over 20 years for charges of LSD distribution, and also for doing what any sensible man would do when he was first busted: going on the lam. Thing is, they found him.

Since his arrest, Seth has been bounced from facility to facility, all the while engaged in a constant struggle to get an education (he just received his BA) and get some writing published (in addition to us, he's contributing to F.E.D.S. and Don Diva). The bravery and optimism he puts forward in a situation that would have led us to break apart into a thousand blubbering pieces of baby shit after one week is beyond inspiring. It's like, "Oh, you missed the train? Poor little girl. Seth Ferranti is living in a zoo in hell. He doesn't get a chance to even miss the train."

This book is a collection of Seth's musings and stories from inside the beast. We're putting it right next to Soul on Ice on the Vice office bookshelf.
